S. T. C. FORMAL TEA HELD TODAY

GLEE CLUB HALLOWE'EN AFFAIR BIG

Witches and goblins held full sway of the situation in the activities room when the Glee Club gave a Halloween party, Wednesday, October 29.

As the guests entered the room they were greeted by an old witch, who gave them favors significant of Halloween and at the same time told them to guess who she was. The witch was so skillfully made up with a white wig, long black gown, and white gloves that it was a long while before one of the group finally guessed who she was. Mabel Roberts was the first to guess that Kathleen O'Farrell was this very entertaining and interesting witch.

A very interesting entertainment was planned by Mary O'Farrell and her committee, consisting of Dan Baker, Maurice Boyd, Ray Cioffi, Frances Kunz, Edna Denhard and Sally Wilde. The first number was a car game. The prize was won by Ruth Harrington.

Muriel Scherrubel then sang "Caro Nome" from Rigoletto, which was followed by "Villanelle" from Dell A'qua and "Slumbersong" from Gretchen. As an encore number she sang the "Cuck-Coo Clock." She was accompanied on the piano by Miss Irene McCall. An added feature was the presentation of Miss Irene Nichols, teacher of Muriel Scherrubel, to the group.

Dr. Stanley Rypins then addressed the group, the title of his speech being "How I Died." It was dramatic, entertaining, and contained a spice of romance.

Three couples, Lillian Tyrell and Maurice Boyd, Miss Ethel England and Ray Cioffi, and Katherine O'Farrell and Elbert Ashland, took active part in the honeymoon express. Miss England and Ray Cioffi won the prize complying with necessary requirements.

Refreshments were served in a novel way.

In keeping with the Halloween idea squash and apple pie were served with orange punch and sandwiches. Dancing then followed. Madeline McGuinness played the piano.

Besides members of the Glee Club the guests included Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Roberts, Dean C. DuFour, Miss Eva Levy, Miss Ethel England, Mr. Frank Ray, Miss Irene McCall, Dr. Stanley Rypins, Dr. Edna Barney, and Miss Irene Nichols.

Call For Volunteers

Students interested in volunteer registration work now have an opportunity of working one or more hours per week on the registration committee. The duties are checking programs as they are filed and giving out information at the desk. The work will extend from November 3 to December 10. Students interested may see Miss Vance.

Petey the Pedagogue Says:

Programs made out on Monday for the spring semester—be-speak a college of optimists—we wonder how many will join the great army of the unemployed.

FEW STUDENTS GAIN HONOR ROLL RANK

The title of "Honor Student," the mark of superiority in study, was won by forty-three students out of the 495 last semester students who re-registered at the opening of this term.

The honor status is attained when the student has received a ranking that would place him in Class B twice successively. Class B students are those whose number of honor points is equal to or exceeds twice the total registered units. The grade of "A" receives three points per unit, and the grade of "B" receives two points per unit.

Following is the list of honor students: Florence Alexander, Edna Browning, Elsie Carlson, May Conway, Dorothy Dalton, Alma Downey, Janice Galbreath, Grace Hackett, Elizabeth Hall, Wilma Harms, Saima Hartikka, Yuriko Hata, Ruth Haydon, Eleanor Jessie, Helen Jorgensen, Annie Kael, Grace Kaufner, Minnie M. Kern, Gertrude Kraus, Sadie Lopesco, Ruth Lunt, Essie McCaw, Sarah D. Mason, Margaret Meng, L. Frances Miser, Kathleen O'Farrell, Gertrude Olsson, Ruth Overfield, Alice Palacios, Alice Gibson Parr, Charlotte Pfeuffer, Helen Richardson, Madeline Riffier, Ethel Riley, Meredith Rowell, Fay Solomon, Frieda Stasulak, Ella Stimson, Alma Sturgeon, Esther Wachholder, Vivian Walsh, Norma Wendt.

PRE-REGISTRATION NOW IN PROGRESS

Students receiving notices of the spring program last Friday probably did not realize that a great amount of effort and thought lay back of this policy. Miss Crumpton said, "The philosophy behind this program making is, that we believe it to be as important a part of teacher training as any other one thing. It enables the student to seek the advice of specialists in his minor fields and to think through his problem."

Room numbers for advisors are posted on the official bulletin board, and students should consult their respective advisors at once.

Pomona and S. T. C. are the only colleges in California that have this pre-registration period before the beginning of the semester.

Plans are being formulated to have the programs made up for one full year in advance instead of the present six months' period.

COLLEGE THEATRE GETS MILNE COMEDY

The last College Theatre play, "The Dover Road," given in the Frederic Burk auditorium, Friday, October 24, before an audience of two hundred people, was well received by the S. T. C. student body.

The plot concerned two eloping couples who were detained at the home of Mr. Latimer, an eccentric philanthropist. The results of this detention were surprising. Anne and Leonard meet Eustasia and Nicholas, Leonard and Eustasia being already married to each other. Through Latimer's clever wiles, both elopements are prevented and the play ends happily.

The play was interesting, but the English accent seemed to add to the actors' difficulties.

MURIEL SCHERRUBLE WINS SECOND PLACE

In the northern California Atwater-Kent contest Muriel Scherrubel, a student at S. T. C., won second place. She was chosen alternate for Miss Baird, the winner of the first prize. She represented the East Bay in the contest and competed with those representing sections from San Luis Obispo to the Oregon State line. Miss Scherrubel sang "Caro Nome" from Rigoletto. If she alternates for Miss Baird, she will represent northern California in the district contest sponsored by the Atwater-Kent. This will include the nine western states.

WELL-KNOWN ACTORS TO BE GUESTS OF HONOR—FAIRMONT HOTEL TO BE SCENE OF EVENT

The annual student body tea, to be held in the gold ballroom of the Fairmont Hotel, will have Betty Clarke and Mr. Michael Haliward, the well-known actors, as guests of honor. The affair will take place today at 4:30.

Dr. and Mrs. Alexander Roberts, Mary Cooney, president of the Alumni Association, Leo Cooper, and Mrs. McCall will be numbered among the important guests.

Plans are being made for a very interesting program, under the direction of the joint chairmen for the affair, Frances Miser and Minnie Kern. Miss Jeannette McCall, graduate of S. T. C., will present several numbers with her partner, Edwin Haskell, member of the faculty of the University of California. Miss McCall will give a Spanish heel dance, tango, and a toe ballet number, to be followed by a solo tap dance by Edwin Haskell. They will conclude their part of the entertainment by rendering a specialty number together.

The overture from "The Pirates of Penzance" will be presented by the college orchestra under the direction of Mr. William Knuth. The vocal numbers will be sung by a women's chorus, chosen from the regular college chorus group, a male chorus and a chorus of mixed voices. Solo parts will be taken by Muriel Scherrubel and Bud Miller.

Various chairmen of committees who are working earnestly with Frances Miser and Minnie Kern to make the tea as successful as it has been in the past, are Ruth Brazel, Alice Rich, Edna Denhard, Margaret Petray, Audrey Moore, Eleanor Burch, and Marion Donaldson. Miss Eva Levy, director of extra-curricular activities has been of great assistance in the planning of the event.

A seating plan is posted in the book store, where those who wish to attend may sign up.

The hostesses for the tea are to be: Catherine O'Sullivan, Alice Zander, Marion Donaldson, Dorothy Williamson, Lillian Tyrrell, Ruth Brazel, Alice Rich, Edna Denhard, Kathleen O'Farrell, Mae Quick, Dorothy Asher, Edith Schultz, Betty Moller, Esther Wacholder, Evelyn Rafter, Margaret Petray, Myrtle Saxe, Viola Gieson, Audrey Moore, Jacqueline Beedle, Eleanor Burch, Margaret Lemon, Avis Kuhn, Ruth Lescinski, Claire Grimes, Dorothy Caswell, Rose Marraccini, Mary O'Farrell, Alice Heim, Dorothy Singer, Elena Foppiano, Laura David, Ruth Herndon, Gladys Berard, Millie Solomon, Margaret Cooch, Del Mylius, Thelma Sylvia, Frances Youell, and Ethel Newton.

CO-OP ADDS TO CIRCULATING SHELF

A new list of fiction has recently been added to the circulating library of the Student Body Book Store. Most of the books have appeared on the list published by the "Bookman Magazine"—books that are the most popular ones in the public libraries of the United States.

The list is as follows:
Bailey, Burning Beauty; Bindloss, The men at Willow Ranch; Gale, Borgia; Gibbs, Young Appoll; Glaspell, Fugitive's Return; Green, The Selbys; Grey, Fighting Caravans; Gunther, The Golden Fleece; Hergesheimer, The Party Dress; Moyt, Bright Intervals; Locke, Ancestor Jorice; McKay, Banjo; Mann, Diana; Marks, The Unwilling God; Parish, The Methodist Faun; Philotts, Three Maidens; Richmond, The Listening Post; Rinehart, The Romantics; Seton, The W Plan; Sinclair, Mountain City; Stern, Modesta; Tomlinson, All Our Yesterdays; Wells, Sleeping Dogs.

If the books are not in when called for, the Book Store will be glad to make reservations.

Card Party Planned

A card party is to be given by the Alumni Chapter of Delta Phi Upsilon on Thursday, November 13. The affair will be held at the Taraval Temple, 14th and Taraval streets, in San Francisco. The money raised by means of the card party will be used to defray the expenses of the convention which is to be held in San Francisco next fall.

STUDENTS DECORATE ART ROOM 211

Art students are endeavoring to make room 211 look like an art room. Several problems have been assigned to different groups by Miss Evelyn Mayer, art instructor.

Students in Art 2 have been designing a narrow border. The best one of these borders, to be chosen by members of the class and Miss Mayer, will be placed above the display section of the room. Wainscoting, first done in dark and light and then in painting, is the work of the Art 10 class. The advanced art class, 110, is at present making a hanging for the room.

Various students have volunteered to bring flowers every week, and the furniture in the room has been changed to different sections.

MASS RALLY HELD TO DISCUSS COLORS

To stimulate the interest, thoughts, and to publicly hear the opinions of the students regarding the school colors was the purpose of a mass assembly held in the gymnasium, Monday noon, October 27.

Catherine O'Sullivan, student body president and member of the student affairs and color committees, conducted the general discussion. These arguments pro and con are to terminate their course in a ballot vote of all the students this afternoon. The popular choice will be one of four groups: green and gold, purple and gold, purple and white, and green and white.

A wise selection will next year be greatly appreciated if at that time the San Francisco State Teachers' College has a football team.

Motif of Annual Changed to Spanish

Ciwa Griffiths, editor of the 1931 Franciscan, announces a change in the theme of the year book from Old English to the more appropriate Spanish.

As the annual will be out in May, it is planned that all the group photos and pictures will be completed before Christmas, along with the black and white illustrations. This arrangement will make it possible to have the color work completed before the spring semester.

Mrs. T. H. Ellsworth, sponsor of the annual, and Miss Griffiths will announce the staff in the next issue of The Bay Leaf.

Official News Only

According to Katherine O'Sullivan, president of the student body, the decision has been reached that all news sent out from S. T. C. to the daily newspapers must be authorized by a responsible campus organization.

This means of checking up on news is expected to eliminate the possibility of publication of unauthentic articles.

Test Announced

Seventy students have passed the first part of the penmanship test. However, the second part, which consists of board work, must be passed in order to complete the penmanship requirement.

Notices will be posted shortly giving the time schedule for the board work tests.

STUDENT AFFAIRS HAS BUSY MEETING

Numerous and exceedingly important items were discussed at a recent Student Affairs meeting held in the business office, Friday, October 24.

Numbered among the most important subjects was Edna Denhard's report on the work of the committee in charge of a change in the school colors. Green and gold, purple and gold, and purple and white, and green and white are the ones for which the choice will be made. The necessity for this change directly results from the fact that the University of St. Ignace carries the same colors as State Teachers. At this time also the mass rally of last Monday, held for the purpose of a discussion of colors, was planned.

The noon time dance committee recommended that the noon dances be conducted by the noon dance committee only, thus excluding the various clubs from sponsoring them. This motion was acted upon and carried unanimously.

Alice Rich was appointed chairman of a sub committee to investigate the advisability of uniting the spring and fall classes into one class. Many colleges of the east and west do this, and it has been found to be an exceedingly excellent plan.

TEACHER TRAINING CONFERENCE HELD

A teacher training conference was held at San Jose, October 30 and 31. Those of the faculty who attended from S. T. C. were Dr. Sherman L. Brown, Miss Grace Carter, Dean Mary Ward, Mrs. Evangeline Spozio, Miss Alice Allcutt, Miss Lillian Talbert, and Miss Cecelia Anderson.

On Saturday morning the San Jose department put on a demonstration of teacher training. Among the principal speakers were: Dr. A. C. Roberts, who spoke on the topic of "Teacher Training in California"; Dr. Elwood Cumberley of Stanford University, who delivered an address on "National Aspects of Teacher Training," and Dr. Aurelia Rheinhardt, president of Mills College, who also spoke.

Friday afternoon Veerling Kersey, state superintendent, gave a talk on "State Policies in Teacher Training."

MISS CASEBOLT WILL ADDRESS CONVENTION

The annual convention of the Western Teachers of Speech, composed of teachers from high schools, colleges, and universities, will be held here in San Francisco during the Thanksgiving holidays. Miss Jessie Casebolt, professor of English at S. T. C., will give two talks, one, "Creative Dramatics," and the other, "What the Old World Has Given Us in Puppetry."

Also during this convention, a demonstration of different types of acting and stage backgrounds will be presented by students of three colleges. The demonstration will be based on a scene from Shakespeare and will be done in the romantic manner, in the stylized manner, and in the machine-age manner. These scenes will be given in the Frederic Burk auditorium, Friday, November 28.

JOLLY JUNIOR NEWS RIVALS PUBLICATION

The S. T. C. paper, The Bay Leaf, has a rival!

The fourth and fifth grade pupils of the Frederic Burk Training School published the first issue of the Jolly Junior News on October 24. The paper is to be published monthly hereafter.

There is a regular staff of an editor-in-chief, staff artist, business manager, and seven associate editors. These children decide what is to be in the paper and do all the work pertaining to its publication.

All of the art work and the contributions to the paper are original pieces handed in by the various pupils of the two grades.

BIG JUNIOR DAY TO BE ON FRIDAY

Chairmen

Junior Day, an entirely new activity to be participated in by the high and low junior classes, will be held Friday, November 7. Various committees are working with the two class presidents, Jacqueline Beedle and Elizabeth McKenzie, to make the day a successful one.

The evening will be spent in the form of a dinner dance in the Concert Room of the Palace Hotel. The class colors, purple and gold, will be used in elaborate decorations. Ray Tellier's Orchestra will furnish the music.

The committees are as follows: Activities—Ethel Newton, chairman, and Margaret Higginson, Madeline Wilbur, Lahoma Atkinson, Betty Stevenson, Amy Taubman, Ellen Alexander; Prom—Margaret Petray, chairman; and Margaret Schweitzer, Sally Wied, Ruth Brazel, Louise Eubank, Thelma Silvia, Silvia Burk, Olive Hindshaw; Publicity—Betty Fiske, Margaret Hazelwood, Edith Duncan; Luncheon—Betty Kennedy, chairman, and La Verne Bigcraft, Edna Denhard, Margot Aase, Louise Miclo, Lillian Tyrell, Monica Lyons.

Each junior will be allowed two bids. Bids will be closed to the class.

Office Gives Out Cinch Statistics

What was the percentage of the student body receiving "cinch" notices this year? Judging from the near riots which took place in the book store, one would be led to believe that about 100% received these little billets doux. But not so. 51.8% received cinch notices. This represents 504 students. The Freshman class received 290 cinches out of a class of 471 or 61%. The new group received 57% out of the total number of cinch notices. Out of the total 504 notices, 180 students received D's, 59 received one D and one F, 51 received one F, and 12 received two F's. There were 101 "other cases."

It really isn't as bad as it sounds, because last year with a smaller student body, the per cent was 43%, and the year before, 51.8%, exactly the same as this year.

Margaret Lemon Wins Haas Candy

Evidently Margaret Lemon knows George Gillispie very well. That's why she won a delicious box of Haas' "Half and Half" candy. Miss Lemon was the first student to correctly identify the outlined figure appearing in the Book Store candy contest.

Evelyn Hayburn recognized the picture of Doris Weinstron in the last issue. The outlined figure appearing in today's Bay Leaf, is the last of a series of contest cuts which have been running in the paper for a period of some weeks. This contest has been sponsored by the Student Body Book Store.

We Present to You

Today we present to you for your approval an enlarged Bay Leaf. The need for a larger publication has been felt for some time, but due to the lack of finances we could not meet the need. We attempted at the beginning of the semester to meet the situation by publishing a weekly in place of the bi-weekly of previous years. This filled the need for only a short time.

The publishing of a larger paper was a big undertaking, and was made possible only by the hard work of the entire staff, which metamorphosed into advertising salesmen to make up the deficit between what we had and what we needed for a larger Bay Leaf.

So today we present this larger publication and hope that it will fulfill the growing need of the college for a short time.

T. N. T.

T. N. T.
Editor's note: It is too lengthy a matter to answer each of these protests individually. Everyone in the college has talked the situation over, and these communications are being printed to show that The Bay Leaf is only too willing to present both sides of any argument.

Dear T. N. T.:

At last this place is waking up; well, it's about time. I have noticed that "sheet of pulp" which is known as The Bay Leaf several times, but was never interested because of the way in which it was written up. However, it seems to me that there is someone on your staff who knows a little about Journalism, if only of the rabid variety, as is evidenced by the late column in Tertium Quid. Yes, I refer to the article about the men and their egotistical actions. Now that I have agreed with you so far, I believe it would be best to give our, the men's, opinion on the subject.

Speaking of steadies and peaches, we might have something to say. You mentioned the fact that you had boy friends outside of school; well, maybe you have, but from the way some of these girls act, I doubt it very much. You mentioned "picking the peaches"; we hope you will pardon our remark, but there are, as a rule, rotten ones in the bottom of the crate. You spoke of our outside publicity campaign, which was forced on us by our inability to secure either a column or columns in that most illustrious publication of the women known as The Bay Leaf.

After throwing this mud so generously, I wish to offer my apologies to the larger group of the feminine students, as I realize that this is the action of a minority group and not the majority, as is shown by the apologies which these more intelligent individuals are making for their weaker sisters.

In conclusion let me advise a rather radical change in this type of program, inasmuch as this type of journalism will not only cause the wrath of the men students but will bring about a cheaper form of publicity in the San Francisco daily papers. Let me also state that this isn't a threat, but a promise.

'Nuf said,
MERE MAN.

Dear T. N. T.:

In a recent Bay Leaf mention was made of the responsibility of the students to be to class or suffer consequences. After the paper was distributed, a certain teacher was late in coming to class, so the class walked out at 20 minutes past the hour. At the next meeting of the class the teacher gave the class a "talking to," and asked if we hadn't seen the article. She said it stated that the responsibility was wholly on the shoulders of the pupils. In my estimation, if the teacher is not present at a class, the subject of that day should be repeated at the next meeting or not given in a test.

SQUARE SHOOTER.

Dear "Square Shooter":
We of the student body find it very dangerous to criticize faculty actions or theories, for the reason that such criticism is not always received in just the way that it is presented; but it certainly does seem unfair to punish a class for something for which only the professor is to blame. Probably most of the circumstances for such an affair as you have described were not realized by the professor in question, and had she stopped to consider the reasons, she would have been willing to meet the class halfway—if the class had also been considerate!

Yours,
T. N. T.

TERTIUM QUID

Today, methinks the faculty is in for a general jerking-up. Not that it needs it. But just because Tertium's aim is to do his job thoroughly on the business basis, letting everybody in on the proposition.

You see, our dear old "profs" have the idea that nobody has the grit to talk turkey to them. But that is where Tertium comes in.

He believes in forming his own opinion about every person or thing, even if he has to increase his life insurance in so doing. Dr. Rypins does. I mean, Dr. Rypins advocates backing up your point of view if you think it is really justified.

So, since we're all created equal and have freedom of the press, here goes—"profs" or no "profs."

First of all, I never could figure out why an instructor is privileged to stroll nonchalantly into his class five or ten minutes after the second bell. If one of his students tries a trick like that, it doesn't go over so big. He is either asked to stay out, or else he has to be satisfied with a large goose-egg on the attendance sheet.

Now I ask you, if a student is supposed to be punctual, what about the instructor? Has he any more right to appear on the scene nineteen and a half minutes past the hour?

Now about this matter of attendance. It seems that a record of students' attendance in class is required for compilation of state statistics. Granted; but, in taking roll, why must a professor toss aside precious minutes by rehearsing his pet act about cuts? We know that line so well now that we can respond automatically without his cues, thus saving lots of time for his course. Most of the faculty members are alike in that they habitually forget to bring with them to class supposedly corrected quiz papers. Do they like the idea of prolonging suspense? We don't. An oversight like this once or twice isn't so bad. But some instructors actually seem to get a kick out of continually forgetting the papers. I wonder if these "accidents" are purely accidental, or if they are part of a "profs" strategy? If so, 'nuf said.

Now here's another thing that gets under our skin.

All human beings are alike in that they dislike being unpleasantly surprised. In a condition of fear and upset, effected by shock, an individual does not respond as well as he would in a normal state. But, should a person be warned in advance to be prepared for something that is sure to come, he instinctively goes on the defensive by equipping himself with the means to cope with the coming situation. And, too, he won't be shocked out of his equilibrium when the time does come, but most likely will respond normally and naturally to the expected stimulus.

Now, that stimulus might be embodied in an "ex." So here's what the instructor must consider; quizzes that are "sprung" are not so inductive to ready, desirable responses as quizzes that are expected. That the instructor does not enjoy an unpleasant surprise, we know. Realize, then, that we are all human in this respect. So why not give students a decent break by announcing, half-way at least, "exams"? In this way, responses are more apt to be normal, and class averages higher.

Well-meaning,

TERTIUM.

P. S.: I prefer pansies.

Joe Beckwith: "I've got the finest wife in the country!"

Bud Miller: "You're darn lucky she's in the country."

The policy of the Student Book Store is "One Step Ahead Always." This statement probably explains why the Co-op clock is always five minutes ahead of time, causing students to get to class on time.

Our Pet Peeves—

There was a general roar of laughter in the psychology class the other morning when Viola Giesen moved her seat. It seems Viola was sitting near the window, and being a woman easily tempted, couldn't resist the view. Just who was in that view is still unknown. Perhaps midterms brought Viola out of the clouds. She now sits in a far corner desirable for no view except that of the grim, gray desk.

MODERN MUSIC CONCERT GIVEN

The New Music Society, of which Henry Cowell is director, presented a concert of ultra-modern music on Wednesday night, October 15.

Mr. San Juan, a Spaniard, and conductor of the Philharmonic Society at Havana, came here especially to conduct the concert. He has also conducted at the Hollywood Bowl in Los Angeles. He is one of the best conductors of modern music in the country.

The program included Arnold Schoenberg's famous "Pierrot Lunaire," sung in costume by Rudolphine Radil, with a chamber group of seven instruments; Ruggles' "Portals," outstanding of New York successes of last season's new American productions, given with a string group of twenty-four; Wallingford Ruggers' new concept of tonality was shown by a presentation of his "Sononities" for ten violins.

The society gave nine complimentary tickets to the Music Department of S. T. C. for distribution among students interested in this type of music.

FROGS COME DISTANCE TO SETTLE IN S. T. C.

California has lakes. Lakes have frogs. Therefore, California has frogs. Yet, in spite of the overwhelming certainty of this fact, S. T. C. imports frogs from Chicago for use in the zoology laboratories.

At first thought, this seems totally unnecessary. Anyone who has spent a vacation in one of the rural districts of the state will testify as to the superiority of the frogs present, at least as far as the vocal apparatus is concerned.

However, the frogs of Chicago are superior in every way, since they are raised scientifically for their delectable legs and for the purpose of dissection. Consequently, they are shipped alive hundreds of miles across the continent, comfortably housed in large boxes.

When they reach S. T. C., they are treated with the utmost respect and handled by the tenderest of hands, but they ordinarily refuse to eat. Luscious, tempting, earthworms are placed before them, but they prefer to live upon the food stored in their livers.

After this supply has been depleted, the frogs are sacrificed to the interests of science in the zoology laboratories far from their native habitats.

DESIGNS DISPLAYED BY ART 10 GROUP

Dadoes designed by the Art 10 class for room 211, under the direction of Miss Evelyn Mayer, are on display in the upper hall of the administrative building. The design, which from the standpoint of color, design, and appropriateness to the room, will be chosen by members of the class.

The class will then be divided into groups, whose duty it will be to stencil and paint the design in the room.

It is hoped that with the co-operation of the various art classes that room 211 at the termination of this semester will be truly representative of an art room.

Those whose designs are on display are the following: Evelyn Hiniker, Leola Evans, Gladys Bastin, Mrs. Brenner, Loretta De Martini, Alice Zander, Frances Youell, Viola Giesen, Clara Gomersal, Edna Husing, Dorothy Mahoney, Sue McCarte, Elizabeth Realy, Ruth Sheridan, Alice Gratiot, Ethelwyn Harmon, Mary Kennett, Marie Leonardi, Madeline Meginnes, Del Mylius, Doris Sinclair, Dorothy Singer, Florence Stark, Marjorie Thompson, Dena Bianchi, Novelle Berling, Viola Wagner, Loretta Donohue, Violet Wilson, Rose Berg, Neva Cavanaugh, and Marjorie Cocking.

Pee Wee Golf Is Expounded

When a problem becomes so strong that a street like Market street automatically becomes a bedlam for a "miniature" sport,

Dr. Valentine recently sent the entire civilized world into spasms.

"This 'pee-wee' golf should prove a blessing to the tired collegian," Dr. Valentine philosophizes. "After contemplation of the problems of the universe throughout the day, a student needs mental relaxation, and this is where 'pee-wee' is a boon. I can think of nothing that requires less brains, except, perhaps, chiropody.

"It is simply a shame how unpatriotic some people are about this game. People ought to stand by our American institutions, but I would wager that at least one man in a hundred fails in his proper loyalty to 'pee-wee.' And yet, not since the war has there been such an outburst of national emotion as this game has inspired. Along with Raisin Day, Normal Spine Week, and the special month that is to be set aside for the Adoration of the Doughnut, 'pee-wee' should command our loyal respect."

The only regret that Dr. Valentine expresses is the choice of the term "pee-wee." He believes that "there is just a slight danger that some people might suspect that it is a game for 'pee-wee' minds."

CLUB PLANS FORMAL AT FOREST HILL CLUB

The Forest Hill Club will be the scene of the formal dance to be given November 15, by Phi Lambda Chi.

Constructed like an old-time English tavern with an immense fireplace, the club house offers a novel and interesting setting for the dance.

Eleanor Burch, in charge of the affair, announced that the tickets will sell for $1.50 a couple. Each member of the club may bring an additional couple, although the entire number of couples is to be limited to fifty. Bernard Noodleman and his orchestra will play for the event.

Exchanges

An article in Santa Barbara State College paper read that school was getting so dull everyone, including the freshmen, have taken to studying.

October 22, Sacramento Junior College printed their first seven-column paper in the history of Sacramento Junior College journalism.

Sacramento Junior College has added 150 more students to the college than there were last semester and has succeeded in obtaining sixty per cent fewer cinches than last semester.

A $2,000,000 memorial library will be presented to the University of Southern California by the Dohenys in memory of Edward L. Doheny, Jr., who graduated from U. S. C. in 1916.

MISS FRASER TELLS RUSSIA EXPERIENCE

Miss Anna Fraser, principal of an Oakland school, tells of interesting events which occurred during her visit in Russia.

"The people who suffered most from the Revolution have taken refuge in other countries," she said. "The working women of Russia are enthusiastic supporters of the Soviet Government, because it has given to them liberty and privileges of which the lower classes have never dreamed."

As she was conversing with a young girl, Miss Fraser happened to mention her return to America. Immediately, the girl's sympathy was aroused, and she asked if Miss Fraser didn't dread to return to the United States where it was so warlike and where so many people were shot. She said, "Why didn't you stay in Russia where everything is quiet and restful?"

Rest homes have been built in the country for women and children. Tickets for all the good concerts of Russia are sold to them for the equivalent of our ten cents. Day nurseries, and many other advantageous organizations have been established. Miss Fraser observes that in reality all this is only propaganda to develop a devotion of the mass of people to the Soviet government.

Young girls come from all over Asia and Russia to study for teaching in Moscow. While Miss Fraser was talking with one of them, the girl asked, "Where is your home?" "California," replied Miss Fraser, and she was very much surprised when she was interrupted with the reply, "Oh, yes, I know. The land of Frederic Burk."

Club Has Initiation

Three new members, pledged last semester, were initiated into Phi Lambda Chi, Wednesday, October 22, at the club house. They are Helen Barnett, Marie Vail, and Marie Stanton.

After the initiation, a song writing contest was held. Both serious and humorous contributions were submitted.

A reception for the new members will be held November 6 in the Activities Room from three to five o'clock. The sponsors of the organization, as well as the old members, will be present at the affair.

On November 19 another initiation will be held for the girls who were pledged this semester. The initiation will take place at the club house at 4:30.

Credit Given in Arts

Next semester, teacher training credits will be given to Speech Art minors who do supervised work in puppetry, play production, stage craft, or class-room dramatization on San Francisco playgrounds. These credits will be accepted in place of teaching the above-named subjects in the public schools.

Supervision of the students' work will be done by Miss Jessie Casebolt, professor of English at S. T. C., and by the playground director. All necessary materials will be provided by the Playground Commission.

'Tis said the college possesses a rare genius—one student actually came through the recent war in the book store WITHOUT A CINCH.

Two lectures on Shakespeare will be given by Brother Leo, Chancellor of St. Mary's College, at the San Francisco College for Women this fall.

The lectures are open to the public, and are to be given on the following Saturdays at 11 a. m.: November 8, "Othello"; November 15, "The Tempest."

RUSSIA CONTINUES HER EXPERIMENTS WHILE WORLD WAITS

Russia's political and economic problem is, at present, of interest to the whole world. Since their revolution in 1917, their struggle to build up a satisfactory government has afforded news interest. After reading the opinions of the newspapers and magazines on this subject, it is interesting to hear what Dr. Stanley I. Rypins has to say.

Dr. Rypins

Dr. Rypins feels he can speak with the courage of his convictions, for he spent considerable time in Russia, and he was allowed to go where he wanted to with the possible exception of the munitions plant which is closed to all outsiders.

One of the questions asked him was, "Doesn't the visitor to Russia see only what the Russians want him to see?" The answer to this is, "Yes, but the visitor to Chicago is not shown the slums and the sordid side of the city; the tourist coming to San Francisco sees Twin Peaks and the other beauty spots here, but he is not taken into the back streets."

The diversity in opinions concerning Russia is natural. Different people going there glean different impressions, and their reports vary widely.

So far, according to Dr. Rypins, Russia's experiment has been relatively successful. They have reorganized transportation, repaired docks and bridges that were blown up in the counter-revolution, and have established state-owned industries.

Themes Are Chosen

Ranging all the way from jazz to world peace, the theme subjects of the English 1A class present many types of interests, experiences, and aptitudes in a group of 300 students.

The three most popular subjects are found to be the eighteenth amendment, radio, and aviation. The next three in favor include music, costume design, and education. Following these are many phases of architecture, economics, history, motion pictures, college athletics, marriage and divorce, immigration, and social relationships.

Club Entertains

Members of Delta Phi Upsilon, kindergarten primary fraternity, welcomed members of the Freshman class who are going to specialize in kindergarten-primary work recently.

Refreshments were served to about sixty people, and a skit, "Darby and Joan," was put on by the organization.

Among faculty members present were: Miss Crumpton, Miss Vance, Miss Levy, and Miss Henze.

Midterm Cinched By Many Cinches

"Well, I'll be—" "Oh, that woman!" "Well, I only got three." "Are you sure I didn't get any more?" "How many did you get?"

This business of "cinches" brought many a hard blow to the students; it caused a severe violation of the English language, and it made such a pronounced effect on the co-op, that the doors of the store were closed for 15 minutes in order to allow the multitude to disassemble itself in order to give Mr. and Mrs. Marples a dose of oxygen.

Surprises were undoubtedly the most characteristic phenomena of Friday, October 24. "And I got a C in my midterm," was heard more than once. Some even seemed disappointed because they didn't get an F or two!

CLUBS TO PRESENT FANTASY TO GROUP

College Theatre and Dance Club are collaborating on a fantasy, "The Shepherds in the Distance," to be presented before the Drama section of the annual bay region meeting of the California Teachers' Association, held December 15, 16 and 17, in the auditorium of Commerce High School. The fantasy will be given December 16.

Mrs. Sarah Scott will direct the dancers, and Miss Jessie Casebolt, the players. The space stage and the scenery will be constructed by Mr. Donald Pryor, a member of College Theatre.

New Library Books

The library has added several new books to the reference department. The Reader's Guide, International Index, and Educational Index are fastened to a special lectern, where they will be easily found and convenient to use.

The Dictionary of National Biography has been placed on a special table, where it is freely accessible to students.

Team Tournament For Handball Held

The inter-team games in handball begin Monday, November 10. There are two handball teams, Team I and Team II. The women are having much fun advancing or dropping on the scoring ladder, but there has not been much skill displayed thus far. The game is new to most of the women, although there are a few who have had some experience in playing handball. Some of these people are: Marion Donaldson, Marie Regli, Pearl Garcia, Frances Petty, Andra Richardson, and "Kay" O'Farrell.

The first four women on each team will be chosen as representatives for the inter-team games. Since the turnout was not large enough for class teams, the cup will have to be presented to the winning team. There may be an individual cup for the winner of the first singles, but this plan has not been definitely decided upon as yet. For W. A. A. points, participation in at least four tournaments will be required.

TUMBLING CLUB IS FORMED BY WOMEN

A group of twenty-five women students who are interested in tumbling met at a luncheon, Tuesday, October 21, to discuss the formation of a tumbling club. The object is to afford an opportunity to take part in programs which will be given from time to time.

Besides the usual tumbling stunts which demonstrate strength and agility, the women are also interested in a new phase of tumbling which stresses rhythm, beauty of line, and movement. The members hope, before the end of the semester, to present a program emphasizing this last type. The student body will be invited.

As yet, the membership is open to any woman student interested in tumbling, regardless of ability. Lillian De Hay will be glad to give information regarding this club.

NATURAL DANCING IS MISCONSTRUED TERM

Angel wings and butterfly garments, knobby knees, primitive nudeness—that's the average student's jumbled idea of natural dancing, according to Mrs. Sarah Scott, who teaches the above mentioned course in this college. The connotation of Natural Dancing is misleading. The very word natural prejudices some people at once. They think "Oh, my figure is terrible. How would I look swathed in that transparent mosquito netting?"

Mrs. Scott states that dancing is not only fine exercise, if well taught, but she also said that it gives one an appreciation of the related arts. But there is still hope for these women who wish to "express" themselves through dancing, and who aren't in the "angel wing" class. That hope is clogging and it is the most popular class of all.

TOURNAMENT IS HELD FOR TENNIS AWARD

On Monday, November 3, the intra-class tennis schedule was completed, for the rest of this week, and during next week, the inter-class tournament will be run off. The seniors should have the strongest team, since both Marion Donaldson and Gladys Benerd are playing for them. The class of '32 has Margaret Graham, a "Cal" transfer. The class of '33 and the freshmen have fair teams, but none of these compare with the aforementioned Donaldson-Benerd combination.

A class cup is to be awarded to the winning team. Margaret Marek, acting manager, asks that all those who are interested turn out for the matches. There is a schedule of the games posted on the bulletin board in the gymnasium.

W. A. A. EXECUTIVE BOARD MEETS

The last executive board meeting of the W. A. A. was held Monday, October 27, at Clinton's cafeteria. The work of the constitution committee was carefully gone over, but no definite action will be taken until Helen Vida, secretary, receives replies from her letters to the San Jose and Chico State Teachers' Colleges.

The point system has not as yet been fully decided upon. The ruling of the Athletic Conference of American College Women requires a change in the point system now used in this college, and recommends the absolute dropping of points as a means of determining the basis for awards. Reports were given by the several sport managers, and final plans were begun.

Grid Forced Way Into Library

A few students were studying; most of them were slumbering; but all were brought back to earth with a shower of crystal-line fragments when a football bounced onto a library table one day last week.

When no shrieks or squeals were emitted, the librarians dashed over to count the casualties. The students, fortunately, remained intact, but Mrs. Cowell's pamphlets were covered with finely ground glass.

Captured and produced by Miss Hussey, the potential football stars willingly and gladly cleared away the remnants of the window pane and rescued the football.

The same studious persons sat down at the same table and had been studying only one short hour, when their table was the scene of the second touch-down of the day. Another perfect drop kick entered through the jagged space it had made an hour before. Although it was time for a big Six for the team, no yell-leader could be found, so the girls could only wait for further developments.

Extra-heavy screens have been put on the windows to prevent the library from becoming the coveted goal line.

A decision has not been made as yet to just where the famous Stanford axe will be placed. According to Dr. R. E. Swain, acting president of Stanford University, the axe is for the time being in a bank vault, but will be definitely placed before the "Big Game" in November.

The turn-outs so far for volley ball practice have been very encouraging to the manager, Betty Stevenson. It is hoped that the girls will "stick" it out. Miss Velda Cundiff is assisting with the coaching.

HUNCH BASKETBALL CONTEST FOUGHT

In a game that was featured by hard playing and "dead eye" shooting, Mendelson and Krieger defeated Worth and Wilson, 21 to 6, in the final game of the hunch basketball contest. By virtue of their victory over Trager and Fisher, Worth and Wilson went into the game as the favorites to cop the championship, but the fine teamwork of Mendelson and Krieger enabled them to win the final game. The winning team will be given two sweat-shirts as the prizes. These prizes will be given to them at one of the coming athletic rallies. The contest was the first of its kind in this school, and was well supported by the men.

Men's Gym Activities

Donald Pellow and Ed Henry are the leaders in the Men's Gym Class Activities at present. At the end of the term a list of all the men in the college, with their standings, will be placed in The Bay Leaf.

The 100-yard dash will be run off today from 3 to 5 o'clock. This will be the only opportunity this semester to take this test.

The results of the hockey tournament have not as yet been announced. However, the following girls were elected captains of their class teams: "Winnie" St. John, class of '32; Marie Regli, class of '33; Margaret Downing, class of '34.

Basketball Team Prospects Bright

Basketball, from present indications, is not only one of the most popular sports among the men, but is to be represented by a more capable team than any of the other athletic games. Such athletes as Ken McGrew, Edward Henry, Donaly Jones, Frank Maino, and Tom Bragg give S. T. C. hope for a strong hoop squad—one that will put the college on the athletic map.

The University of San Francisco, the nearest rival, is also the most formidable one. The fine teams turned out by the Gray Fog have made basketball history in intercollegiate competition. Negotiations are under way for games with the university and several other colleges at the present time.

The hunch tournament recently organized is keeping interest alive in the game. The men have received the idea of the "two-man team" tournament with enthusiasm, and this form of competition will bring out, for Coach Cox's inspection, the ability of the prospective team members.

Inter-class basketball is not far off. It is scheduled for the first of November and the games will probably be played during the noon hour.

Fresno State College have started work on their annual spring event, the Tokalon pageant, that will be held on June 6.

COACH MAKES CALL FOR HOOP SEASON

First call for basketball practice will be issued by Coach Cox, on Wednesday, November 12. There will be two weights, 30's and unlimiteds. Games have been arranged with Polytechnic, Galileo, Commerce, San Jose State, Santa Rosa Junior College, and Marin Junior College. The first game will be played with Polytechnic High on November 24, at S. T. C. court. It is up to the students to support the teams by attending games and athletic rallies. The Poly Hi game will be S. T. C.'s first venture in athletic competition and a large turnout is expected to support the team. The attendance of the first three games will determine the number of games to be played at home.

In order to stimulate interest in basketball and to get tab on the players for the coming basketball season, Dean Cox and Basketball Manager, McGraw, have arranged a schedule for inter-class basketball. Many strong teams are entered and the competition will be very strong. The teams are entered under the same colors as in the inter-class touch-tackle games. There is a new team entered under the name of the Greens, which is composed of the men of the college who do not take gym. All games are played at the Salvation Army court at 415 on the days scheduled. Dean Cox referees all games, and S. Trager and W. Pratt, assistant basketball managers, assist in the scoring and timekeeping.
